

Thank you for taking the time to write an encouraging note to the women that we interact with in our ministry.

In your note we ask that you...

- not identify yourself
- not identify Fight 4 Freedom as an organization on the card or mention that Fight 4 Freedom is an anti-trafficking organization
- do include the anti-human trafficking number. You don't need to identify what the number is, just write the number down. The number is 1-833-900-1010.

Below are suggestions of encouraging messages you can write.

Just a note wanting to let you know that you are precious. May this knowledge bring you positive, and healing benefits for you every day!

It's always nice when somebody is thinking of you. It doesn't matter if it's your beloved or a friend. So, we wanted to let you know that we think of you often for you are special!

Certain things happen in a certain way at a certain time and place. And sometimes, certain people are brought into our lives, but whatever reason made our paths cross, we don't really care, because we're honored and grateful that we did cross paths. We want to bring this message to you – you are loved!

To our dear friend, today, we pray that your life will always blossom and knows no end. It will always stay fresh like the early morning river. Each and every day will be another chance to experience that you are cherished and loved!

Just wanted to share with you that your light shines so bright, and we'll gladly stand next to you and witness your brightness, because we're so excited to show the world how breathtakingly beautiful you are.

Sending you a million smiles, one for each and every day, as we want you to keep smiling each and every day.

Thank you for touching our lives in ways that you may never know. You are a precious gift sent from God.

If we were given one wish in life, we would give you the ability to see yourself through our eyes. You would realize how special you are!

Just as a new bloom spreads fragrance and freshness around, may this year add a new beauty and freshness into your life!

Let the new season wash away all your worries and bring you joy and better days. Let every sunbeam and every snowflake witness your efforts to shine!
